

John Geraghty is a Director in the Structured Finance Practice for Marshall & Stevens Incorporated. Mr. Geraghty leads the East Region Structured Finance team in the valuation of solar and wind projects in all stages of development.

Mr. Geraghty joined Marshall & Stevens in 2018. Before Marshall & Stevens, he served as Director of Strategic Partnership Development for Strata Solar's design/build C&I. Prior to that, he was the Senior Vice President of Structured Finance for Vanguard Energy Partners, the construction arm of Vanguard, and Managing Director of Vanguard Energy Capital, the capital procurement/asset management side of Vanguard. Earlier in his career, Mr. Geraghty worked at AT&T Capital for 14 years as head of Business Planning, a deal team leader for its Structured Finance unit and finally the unit's Managing Director. He executed his first solar project financing in 1989's closing of SEGS VIII, an 85MW $235 million leveraged lease with three equity partners. At the time, SEGS VIII was the largest solar electric generation system constructed to date.

He earned an M.B.A., Northeastern University, and B.S., Accounting from Montclair State University.
