

Keith Martin is a partner in the Washington office of Norton Rose Fulbright. The firm has 3,400 lawyers in 58 offices in 33 countries. It did $117 billion in project finance transactions in the last three years. The Chambers directory has called Keith "the preeminent authority on tax structurings in the US" and gives him its sole "star" ranking among US renewable energy lawyers. He worked for 116 companies last year on numerous tax equity and M&A transactions. He also lobbies the US Treasury and Congress on policy issues. He has edited the Project Finance NewsWire for the last 22 years.